

PROVIDE FIRST AID IN AN EDUCATION AND CARE SETTING

HLTAID012

This unit describes the skills and knowledge required to provide a first aid response to infants and children in line with first aid guidelines determined by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and other Australian national peak clinical bodies. It is suitable for people who need to conduct refresher training, maintain workplace skills or those who simply want to be equipped with a critical lifesaving skill.

Our childcare first aid course will provide you with the knowledge and skills to manage emergency first aid situations, including respond to an emergency situation, apply appropriate first aid procedures, communicate details of the incident and review the incident. It is the standard course required for employment in education and care industry.
